

A gift for you

"The Roanoker was more than a place to eat: It was where strangers became friends and friends became family. The Roanoker was a beacon to the community for so many different groups, or just somewhere for people to get together and have a good home-cooked meal."

- 81 Years of Food and Family

In partnership with

